CARRIE JACOBS-BOND.

An Indiscreet Friend.

Special Attraction at the Calumet Theater This Evening.

Carrie Jacobs-Bond, the well known composer of human interest and religious songs and author of all latest writings, will give a special entertainment at the Calumet theater this evening, the attraction having been brought here by Thomas Tunney. Mrs.

Bond will render her own selections. It is not claimed for her that she is a great vocalist but in the rendition of her own work she is able to give interpretations which no other could conceive, and as an entertainer she gains among the very best in the country.

From the big demand for seats today, it is evident that the attendance this evening will be large.

"The baby likes to play with my hair."

"But you don't trust him with it when you are out, do you?" inquired her caller.

And thus a coolness arose between two women who had been lifelong friends.

Perpetual Worth.

"Why was it you never married again, Aunt Sallie?" inquired Mrs. McClane of an old colored woman in West Virginia.

"Deed, Miss Ellie," replied the old woman earnestly, "dat dald nigger with moan to me dan a live one. I gits a pension."—Lippincott's.

MAY WIPE OUT 15 DAY CLAUSE

Legislature Likely to Amend the Compensation Act

The present Michigan compensation act may be amended in the next session of the legislature, striking out the clause which provides that compensation does not become effective until fifteen days after the date of the injury. Since the law went into effect there has been more or less criticism of the act from the standpoint that it does not provide for minor injuries from which most of the injured recover within fifteen days and receive no compensation. The evident purpose of this clause was precaution against fraudulent injuries. In the mining district however, where minor injuries are more frequent than permanent injuries, and where the larger employers have the protection of their own physicians, it is felt that an exception should be made.

Representative-elect A. E. Petermann, when asked as to his attitude, expressed a desire to do all in his power to make the present act more workable and so as to provide for contingencies which are not met by the present law. He stated that while the present law may be exactly suited to conditions in the factory districts, he believed there are some features which might be improved. Mr. Petermann said he would do everything in his power to make the bill satisfactory to both employer and employee.

Mr. Petermann is also ready to combat the tonnage tax, should that measure be introduced in the next session.

When asked as to whether any new legislation is contemplated, Mr. Petermann stated that he believed the two measures mentioned are the only important bills now under discussion at this time in this district. He stated that he would make an effort to make more workable some of the present existing laws and would do his best at all times to represent this district fairly and to defend its interests.

Mr. Petermann has received various recommendations for alterations in the present game laws, some of which are contradictory. He stated that he believes the present game laws might be improved.

HERE TOMORROW NIGHT.

"The Fortune Hunter" is Wholesome Play of Much Interest.

Rowland and Clifford, the producers of "The Fortune Hunter" are reaping a harvest from the presentations of this fine play, now in its third year of phenomenal prosperity. "The Fortune Hunter" is announced for presentation at the Calumet theater tomorrow evening.

"The Fortune Hunter" is a wholesome play that catches the fancy and holds the attention of an audience from first to final fall of curtain, and while its atmosphere and character are rural, it presents types that attract the average man and woman by reason of the directness of their appeal to our vein of human interest.

Altogether, it may be said that those who like plays that excite the emotion, from laughter to eye mistiness, will find just what they want in "The Fortune Hunter," which is a clean, sweet and thoroughly delightful comedy.

CLASS WILL ENTERTAIN.

"GIRL WHO DARED" TO BE PRESENTED HERE MONDAY

MUSICAL COMEDY TO BE AT-TRACTION AT THE CALU-MET THEATER.

Manager A. J. Seaman of "The Girl Who Dared" musical comedy company was in Calumet this morning, making final arrangements for the appearance of that attraction here next Monday evening. As it will be the first musical comedy brought here for several weeks, it is expected it will be well attended. Popular prices will prevail.

"The Girl Who Dared," comes to Calumet after a long and highly successful run at the Lyric theater in Chicago last year and with practically the identical cast. Its scenic effects are said to be very striking, especially the electrical effects and it is provided with a big assortment of tuneful songs, there being almost twenty new airs. The chorus, which is composed of thirty people is said to be one of the features of the show, being composed of a bevy of pretty young girls, well equipped with singing voices and attractively costumed.—Advertisement.
